Robert Hubbard-

The Text itself (in Joshua 18-19 ) offers no explanation of the lot casting procedure, but one plausible scenario commends itself.

One may imagine two containers, each with 7 stones. The 7 in one container somehow identify with each of the 7 land portions, while the 7 in the other container bears the name of a tribe eligible for the land. Joshua would then cast one stone on the ground from each container, which would match a portion of the land with that tribe.” End Quote
