DAY 1

God existed before creation • Genesis 1:1-2

READ

Genesis 1:1-2

EXPLAIN

The truth of Gen 1:1-2

In the beginning, before the creation of the heavens and the earth, there was God. This is because God has always existed. Nobody created God. He is eternal, without a beginning or an end. He existed before creation and everything in creation owes its existence to Him (Col 1:16).

Genesis 1:2 indicates that the earth was empty before God created everything. This was the situation on earth before it was touched by the creative hand of God. Everything that we can see, hear, smell, taste, and touch has been created by God. Even things we can't identify with our senses—things we can't see or touch

ASK

1. What does Genesis 1:1 say that God created?
"God created the heavens and the earth."
2. What existed "in the beginning"?
The Bible says, "In the beginning, God." Before all creation, God existed.
3. If God existed before the creation, where did He come from? When was God created?
No one created God, nor did He just appear. God is eternal, without a beginning or an end.
4. How do we know that God is a powerful God?
His creation.

DISCUSS

1. How is God different from everything else in creation (Job 38:4-39:30)?
2. Discuss that God has existed even before the mountains were formed (Ps 90:2).

VII. Be Intentional in Instructing your Children

“Moses understood that God’s truth cannot effectively be taught if it is confined to the home or classroom. How will our children believe that the Bible is about all of life if we only talk about it during the Bible lesson? ...To put it another way, discipleship is most effectively accomplished when the practice is integrated into the rhythm of everyday life. A consistent time of family worship, for example, is a great discipleship practice, but it is no substitute for a lifestyle of discipleship that encompasses the breakfast table, the car, bedtime, errands, and chores. There is not a single moment in life that cannot be used as an opportunity for instruction”

VII. Be Intentional in Instructing your Children

“When using the Scripture for the purpose of conviction, you should take aim at the conscience of your children. You must try to disturb any complacency and indifference to sin and awaken him to the fact that he [or she] has done, or not done, something that is displeasing to God...one of the most effective ways of awakening the conscience of others to their sin is by asking them questions...”

How do we target the heart? 5 Questions To Get At Your Child's Heart by Paul Tripp

1. What happened?
2. What were you thinking and feeling when that happened?
3. What did you do in response?
4. Why did you do it and what were you seeking to accomplish?
5. What was the result?

VII. Be Intentional in Instructing your Children

“The central focus of childrearing is to bring children to a sober assessment of themselves as sinners... The focal point of your discipline and correction must be your children seeing their utter inability to do the things that God requires unless they know the help and strength of God... Discipline leads to the cross of Christ where sinful people are forgiven.”
