“A woman's role is to make her home a refuge from all of the mean-spiritedness, callousness, cruelty, and wickedness so often encountered in the outside world.

Her husband often has to deal with evil in the workaday world. Her children have to battle it at school. When husband and children come home, home should seem to them like a suburb of heaven.”

Director of the Emmaus Correspondence School

Small Group Discussion

1. What character qualities in Titus 2:3–5 should believers pursue before marriage, and why does spiritual maturity begin now rather than later?
2. How does observing godly men and women in the church help prepare singles for future relationships, leadership, and ministry?
3. Paul says these instructions exist “so that the word of God will not be dishonored”(v.5). How does the way singles live today either commend or weaken the witness of the gospel?
